

report the vote 4
interviewing
Lisa Loving
@LisaLoving on X
@LisaLoving on FB
@Loving on IG

Thanks for being here, I'm Lisa Loving and this is Report the Vote, workshop #4, Interviewing. Brought to you by the Pacifica Affiliate Network and WNUC LPFM in Detroit.

In this workshop we cover crucial reporting skills, but this is just one episode of a series. Look for the others online, we're creating them one at a time here.

As usual I have two notes: Be autodidactic. Always be teaching yourself something new that's important.

And if you hear a small lap dog becoming hysterical, that's just my chihuahua Riley telling you what a great job you're doing.

—> basic techniques

ISSUE OF RESPECT—> Noor Ghazi event, choosing to respect people with conflicting ideas from yours is a choice to humanize them. DEHUMANIZING PEOPLE is what happens on Fox News when the talking hairdos start putzing about Liberals.

Jennifer Brandel —> the power of love

<https://www.niemanlab.org/2023/12/journalisms-next-disruptor-love/>

—>

<https://localnewsmatterspodcast.com/shut-up-and-listen-jennifer-brandel-of-hearken-on-innovation-via-empathy-inclusiveness/>

WHAT IS THIS <https://democracy-sos.org/>

How Journalists Engage book

TYPES OF INTERVIEWS

—> person on the street

—> Q&A (a common format for candidate interviews)

—> forums

—> round tables of multiple people on issues

—> El Timpano approach

—> how to get an interview with a VIP (also: redefine who is a VIP —> mothers and family of murdered and missing people are my VIPs)

- A LOT OF TIMES PEOPLE ARE ALREADY TRYING TO CONTACT YOU – take a moment and review messages.

LISTEN TO PEOPLE IS THE MOST IMPORTANT THING TO DO

That's it for our workshop. Get the links and one-papers from this workshop by dropping your email into the chat here and emailing ursula@pacific.org! Friends, listen to me for a minute: Whatever we have 5 years from now is gonna be something you made. So thanks for being with us and hope to see you next time. I'm Lisa Loving and this is Report the Vote. Brought to you by the Association of Affiliates and WNUC LP FM in Detroit and Pacifica..